We're off and reading. Welcome to a new year with CBCA Tasmania!

From the President

Welcome to another exciting year for our branch here in Tasmania. This year promises to be busy and rewarding with planning for many of the regular events already underway. These activities include: Readers' Cup, Short-Listed Books event, Judges' Talks, Author Talks and Book Week Celebrations. As a branch we are looking for exciting and innovative ideas for these events that will capture the interest of our schools and communities and promote the importance of children's literature, as well as publicizing CBCA Tasmania. If you have any great ideas that you have heard of, seen in operation or implemented yourself please share them with one of our committee members. The more ideas we share the greater our synergy and capacity to engage our communities.

As the planning develops, details of specific events will be available through our website and newsletter. If you are interested in being involved in any of these events please let us know as we always need enthusiastic volunteers.

Morris Gleitzman is our newest Australian Children's Laureate.

His theme for the coming two-year term is 'Stories Create Our Future'.

Morris explains: "Young people need stories more than ever. Stories to delight, stories to beguile, stories to inspire, stories to move deeply. And through these experiences, stories that equip young readers to embrace an often dark and uncertain world with optimism, resolve and creativity."

The Copyright Agency's Cultural Fund has provided more than $70,000 to the Australian Children's Literature Alliance since it kicked off the Children's Laureate program in 2011. This funding gives the author a modest stipend for the two-year period.

During his tenure as laureate, Morris Gleitzman will travel the country attending key literary events and festivals including the Norman Lindsay Children's Literature Festival in March, the CBCA Victoria conference and Sydney Writers' Festival in May, and the Adelaide Festival of Ideas in July.

CBCA Tasmania's latest activities

Book of the Year Awards Ceremony at Government House

Friday 18 August 2017 heralded the long awaited announcements of the winners and honour books for the Children's Book Council of Australia's Book of the Year Awards announced at Government House by Her Excellency the Governor in prestigious and historic surroundings.

After being formally welcomed on entry, guests moved past strategically placed displays of the shortlisted titles in each category to be seated in the ballroom. What a lavish and fitting setting for this prestigious event.

After a warm welcome from Governor Warner, The Chair of the National Board, Professor Margot Hillel announced the shortlisted finalists, followed by the Honours and Winners in each category. The results can be viewed on the CBCA Website.

The ceremony was concluded by a presentation from the Outhouse Legends representing Jordon River Learning Federation located in the northernmost suburbs of Hobart. These talented young artists recited Julia Donaldson's 'I opened a book' followed by an energetic countdown, led by the performers, to mark the official start of Book Week - a joyful and vociferous conclusion to a prestigious ceremony.

A light afternoon tea was served and provided Her Excellency and Mr Warner, guests, recipients, CBCA Board members and judges to mingle, congratulate, check the books and enjoy the occasion and the surroundings. Other student representatives included the winning teams from the Hobart Readers Cup competitions.

Book of the Year Celebratory Dinner – Hobart Waterfront

The Tasmanian Branch of the CBCA had the pleasure of hosting the Book of the Year celebratory dinner at the Hobart Function and Conference Centre on Elizabeth Street Pier. Over 100 people attended the function and enjoyed delicious food and a spectacular night view of the harbour overlooking the Derwent River. Chamber music, played by a group of young talented musicians set the scene as guests arrived and mingled.

Our Master of Ceremonies Steve Martin, a CBCA Tasmanian Committee Member and Mayor of Devonport conducted the proceedings. The evening began with an interactive quiz which challenged our knowledge with quirky questions relating to children’s literature both old and new.

The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Nan Chauncy

Award by Jenni Connor to Mem Fox for her contribution to children’s literature over many years. Mem’s acceptance speech was, as always, entertaining, informative and engaging. She paid tribute to the many other talented and creative people involved in producing her popular books and stated that; “Authors are only 50% of a great picture book”. Mem shared some of her memorable experiences as an author, events from her early life and hilarious responses from her child readers. She concluded by reading her latest book I’m Australian too and encouraged the audience to join her in singing the last verse of the story to the tune of Advance Australia Fair. As Mem Fox said; “The ending is not the end, the story continues!”

The evening was a wonderful opportunity to meet different authors, illustrators, publishers and award winners, members of the National Board of CBCA, branch and territory members and many other people interested in promoting quality children's literature at the local, state, and national level in Australia. As Gina Newton, the winner of the Eve Pownall Award said; "it was a magical evening".

The evening concluded with a special thanks and appreciation to Nella Pickup for her work in organising the Awards ceremony at Government House, and to Gay McKinnon for leading a stalwart team in executing the dinner.

2017 Inaugural 'Devonport Reader's Cup'

Having just joined the CBCA (TAS) and judging the Southern Tasmanian Readers Cup, it was surprising to hear that such a learning challenge had never been experienced in NW Tasmania. The eight Devonport primary school principals were approached, successfully gaining their support and participation.

After further discussion on the concept, it was agreed to extend a winner's trophy to both categories of Quizmaster & Creative Challenge, additionally, to level the playing field for all schools and teams, an adjustment was made to the team structure of 6 students, ruling that there was to be no more than 2 students being at an A level Reading per team.

Devonport City Council partnered with local radio stations 7AD and SEAFM, bringing to life the Devonport Readers Cup on Friday 10th November 2017, conducted at the East Devonport Recreation Centre, with all eight primary schools represented. Also thanks must go to the CBCA (TAS) for allowing us to partner with them to bring the Readers Cup to the NW and to the Southern Readers Cup for all their support.

Our judges consisted of Anne Guest (Devonport Linc), Devonport Alderman Tammy Milne (Latrobe Primary School Librarian) along with myself also doubling up as quizmaster. CBCA (TAS) Patsy Jones came up from Hobart to take on the duties of official scorekeeper.

It was indeed a room full of excited students, hopeful teachers and parents, obvious by the hum of chatter and eager eyes.

The winner of the Radio 7AD Quiz was Devonport Primary School; the winner of the Radio SEA FM Creative Challenge was Hillcrest Primary School; and the winner of the Devonport Readers Cup was Devonport Christian School. Also, each participant received a personalised Certificate of Participation.

It was strongly rumoured that the winners travelled back to their school via McDonalds, where the Readers Cup was filled with soft serve and enjoyed by all. And why wouldn't you!

It was a great event, one I'm really looking forward to again, this year in 2018.

Official scorekeeper Patsy Jones; Judges L-R Tammy Milne & Anne Guest

Updates from CBCA National Board

Bequest Program

Recently we launched our Bequest Program with a direct mail appeal to creators, publishers and national partners asking them to consider including the CBCA in their will to help us continue our work of nurturing a literate, educated and creative society. Mem Fox and Bob Graham kindly agreed to provide some commentary to include in our Bequest Letter. Here's what they said:

Mem Fox: "CBCA Children's Book Week sets Australian schools alight with the love of books and reading for a magical week every year. Out of this enthusiasm and focus, literacy leaps ahead. I'm therefore deeply thankful that the CBCA exists and is such an advocate for Australian books and young Australian readers. Greater literacy and a happier population is the marvellous result."

Bob Graham: "Children are born curious to everything surrounding them. To put a book into the hands of a young child is to give them a world without borders, a world limited only by access to the stories found between their covers. The CBCA has been doing just this for over 70 years, bringing stories to generations of children, opening their minds to and understanding of the world around them."

New National Partnerships

We recently partnered with Echelon Productions, operator of Perform! Educational Musicals - a multi award-winning producer of educational theatre for primary schools. They have been touring for 18 years, educating children about CBCA Children's Book Week, Cyber Safety, Science and Technology, Financial Literacy, and Fitness and Health. We are pleased to be working with an organisation that brings quality educational productions into Primary Schools, exploring the CBCA Children's Book Week themes and promoting literature and the joy of reading in an interactive, fun and engaging way. Perform! Educational Musicals will bring the 2018 CBCA Children's Book Week theme Find Your Treasure to life in a new production titled Treasure Hunt!

After discussing with ACT and Vic branches who are familiar with them, we recently signed a partnership agreement with Zart Art. The agreement will ensure advertising in ZA's 2018 Book Week activity book of which at least 3,000 copies will be printed and promoted via ZA's teacher network through their email mailing list to 10,000 art teachers and librarians across Victoria and ACT and an advertising/article in Zart Extra, ZA's in-house professional learning magazine of which at least 12,000 copies are to be printed. ZA has also offered free venue hosting for CBCA author illustrator workshops/talks/panel discussions at their Victorian workshop space, which we have passed on to the Vic branch. The Partnerships Committee felt that in addition the $500 IP rights Zart paid us, this deal delivered good promotion and operational support to CBCA.
